

A young boy with dark, curly hair is running on a sandy beach towards the ocean. He is wearing blue shorts with a white stripe. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a warm, golden glow over the scene. The sky is filled with soft, white clouds. The waves are gentle and white with foam. The overall mood is peaceful and joyful.

Where imagination runs free

◆ North Carolina's Crystal Coast

North Carolina's Crystal Coast is located along the southernmost portions of the famed Outer Banks. A two hour drive from I-95, a two and a half hour drive from the Raleigh area and approximately five hours from Richmond, VA, the Crystal Coast is the ideal family oriented beach destination for your next getaway. Steeped in rich history that dates to the 1700s, Beaufort has been named "America's Coolest Small Town" by Budget Travel Magazine, the "Second Most Romantic Town" by Travel + Leisure Magazine and the "Best Yachting Town" by Yachting Magazine! Also, Atlantic Beach has been named "Best Spring Break" by Outside Magazine and Morehead City was named in the top ten "Best Fishing Towns in America" by www.worldfishingnetwork.com.

Cape Lookout National Seashore is home to the Cape Lookout Lighthouse where visitors can climb to the top for the most breath taking view east of the Mississippi! Wild horses, descendants of Spanish mustangs, swam ashore when their ships wrecked on the shoals of the "Graveyard of the Atlantic". These waters are home to the "Best Wreck Diving" along the east coast, according to Scuba Diving Magazine.

Our beaches offer 85 miles of sandy shores, perfect for swimming, shelling, surfing, stand-up paddle boarding, and of course, some of the best inshore and offshore fishing offered anywhere. The Big Rock Blue Marlin Tournament draws hundreds of entries for over 60 ways to win major cash, along with the bragging rights to winning the number one tournament on the east coast. Surf fishing and pier fishing, both inshore and offshore, offer anglers the chance to reel in Tuna, Wahoo, Mahi-Mahi, King Mackerel, Snapper, Flounder and Trout.

Culinary travelers will fall in love with the "catch of the day" paired with fresh locally grown produce from area farms. Many of our restaurants offer local seafood that is part of the "Carteret Catch" program, guaranteeing the product is caught in local waters. Festivals and events are held throughout the year making the Crystal Coast the perfect location to indulge that urge for new experiences. Enjoy the North Carolina Seafood Festival in October or the Core Sound Waterfowl Weekend in December, the Emerald Isle St. Patrick's Festival in March or the 4th of July events that will keep you returning year after year.

If this is your first visit, see what you've been missing. If you've been here before, come home to YOUR beach, we're waiting to welcome you back!

◆ Main Attractions

BEAUFORT HISTORIC SITE – The salty-sweet smells of an ancient maritime heritage wafting in from the Atlantic permeate the painstakingly preserved Federal period buildings at the Beaufort Historic Site. Personal guided tours showcase the collection of 10 historic buildings, including a jail, courthouse, apothecary and doctor's office as well as three homes, all-dating back to the 1700's and 1800's. In addition to the guided walking tours, explorations of the Historic district are available aboard a vintage 1948 English double-decker bus.

CAPE LOOKOUT NATIONAL SEASHORE – A 56-mile strand of silken beaches that make up the coastal islands of eastern North Carolina, one of the few remaining natural barrier island chains in the world, accessible only by boat. Those seeking the freedom to experience complete solitude and an opportunity to discover endangered animals in their natural habitats can also explore the beach to find a multitude of large unbroken conch shells. Frequently dotting the beaches and woven in between the sand dunes are families and shore fishermen camping with tents pitched -- fishing, hiking and delving into all that Mother Nature has to offer. History comes alive at the Cape Lookout Lighthouse and Keeper's Quarters built in the mid-1800's to warn passing ships of the dangerous coastal waters. Standing at 163 feet tall, the lighthouse was painted with a distinctive black and white diamond pattern in order to distinguish it from other North Carolina lighthouses and is open to visitors to climb during the summer.

CORE SOUND WATERFOWL MUSEUM & HERITAGE CENTER – Built as a tribute to the history and heritage of the residents of Harkers Island, and to preserve the practice of decoy carving, the Core Sound Waterfowl Museum relocated to a brand new facility in 2009. Decoy carving, a popular pastime of the area, involves skilled artisans carving a perfect replica of a duck from a block of wood. The ducks were used, quite literally, as decoys during duck hunting season. The museum frequently hosts live demonstrations from actual decoy carvers in their “decoy-carving workshop.”

FORT MACON STATE PARK – Originally designed to guard Beaufort Inlet and Beaufort Harbor, Fort Macon has been the site of wartime tragedies and triumphs. During the Civil War the fort changed hands several times between Union and Confederate forces, eventually fell into disrepair and was finally restored as a part of the state park system in 1934. The fort was taken over by the federal government once again during World War II and used to protect a number of important nearby facilities. Now the state park is home to a protected beach, complete with seaside bathhouse, sunny nature trails, family friendly picnic facilities and a rich supply of fish. Visitors take spirited ghost tours highlighting the eccentric past the fort has experienced. The fort underwent a multi-million dollar renovation, restoring the 26 casemates, or vaulted rooms, used as shelter, kitchen space, and as prison cells for soldiers.

NORTH CAROLINA AQUARIUM AT PINE KNOLL SHORES – Visitors to the aquarium will be awe-struck by the more than 3,000 specimens of North Carolina’s most colorful aquatic life, making it the largest saltwater aquarium in the state of North Carolina. The aquarium concentrates on eco-systems all native to North Carolina with different exhibits emphasizing various marine habitats. The “Living Shipwreck” features a life-sized replica of a German U-352 submarine and Blackbeard’s infamous ship, The Queen Anne’s Revenge with a 60-foot viewing window. Other attractions include: stingray touch-tank, a river otter exhibit, mountain trout pool, jellyfish gallery and sport fishing gallery. The aquarium itself resides in its own native North Carolina habitat, the 300-acre Roosevelt Maritime Forest.

NORTH CAROLINA MARITIME MUSEUM – A haven for the unconventional history of the Crystal Coast, the museum is the official repository for all of the artifacts discovered on the Queen Anne’s Revenge, the ship captained by Blackbeard the infamous pirate. With an impressive display of seashells from around the world with 5,000 specimens from more than 100 countries, the museum is also home to an interesting contraption known as the “Life Car,” a mini-submarine used to rescue mariners stranded at sea. Just across the street from the museum is the Watercraft Center where volunteers actively build and restore boats in an effort to preserve the Crystal Coast’s tradition of “backyard boat-building.” The Watercraft center also is home to the “Boat in a Day” program, an opportunity for families to build and take home a six-foot boat, known locally as a Harkers Island skiff.

SHACKLEFORD BANKS – For more than 400 years the wild horses of Shackleford Banks have taken care of their young, frolicked on pristine deserted beaches and foraged for food with not a saddle or fence in sight. The horses have enjoyed the protections afforded by Cape Lookout National Seashore in cooperation with the Foundation for Shackleford Horses dedicated to maintaining the animals’ way of life. Scientists, historians and nature lovers alike have speculated the origins of the Shackleford horses, or “Banker ponies” -- the most popular being that the horses swam ashore after a Spanish ship exploring the new world met with a tragic fate off of North Carolina’s shores. Visitors make their way to the island on one of the ferries running from Harkers Island, Beaufort and Morehead City.

◆ Atlantic Beach

Named one of Coastal Living Magazine's 21 Best Beaches, Atlantic Beach is a classic beach town that features wide sandy beaches, a Boardwalk and a commercial district with plenty of dining and shopping options. As the oldest of the five resort towns on the island of Bogue Banks, Atlantic Beach has been North Carolina's "go to" beach since the 1930's. Visitors can choose from an array of accommodations including mom-and-pop motels, national chain hotels, condominiums, classic beach bungalows, and luxurious oceanfront homes. Atlantic Beach is also home to Fort Macon State Park, an historic Civil War fort, which is the most visited state park in North Carolina. The small-town setting of Atlantic Beach ensures that activities such as boating, fishing and surfing are an easy walk or bike ride away.

◆ Beaufort

North Carolina's third oldest town, Beaufort offers tours through Colonial homes and buildings dating to the 1700's. Beaufort's location on Taylor's Creek makes outdoor activities a natural fit. Stroll the docks and watch glorious sunsets. Perfect for kayaking, standup paddle boarding, bicycling and sailing - adventure is just around the corner! Blackbeard the legendary pirate sailed these waters and left one of his ships sunken just off the Beaufort Inlet. The artifacts are being recovered and are available for viewing at the NC Maritime Museum. Harbor tours and nature tours get you up close and personal with dolphins frolicking in the water, wild horses on Rachael Carson Reserve and a variety of birds and other wildlife. In the spring, the Beaufort Wine & Food Weekend is enjoyed by locals and visitors alike, as the town welcomes celebrity chefs, winemakers, and sommeliers to share their talents and expertise. A first visit to Beaufort will certainly not be your last!

◆ Down East – Harkers Island

Cross the North River Bridge just past Beaufort and you enter one of the most storied and authentic areas of our county, the heritage area known as Down East. Here is the beginning of the Outer Banks National Scenic Byway that meanders north through small seafaring villages and towns. Along with the scenic beauty of salt marsh overlooks, much of the area makes its living as it has for centuries from commercial fishermen and fish houses, our famous wooden boat building industry, even traditional net mending and decoy carving. It is also home to the Cedar Island Ferry that links the Crystal Coast to the more northern islands that comprise the Outer Banks of North Carolina. Harker's Island is home to the Cape Lookout National Seashore headquarters and the Core Sound Waterfowl Museum and Heritage Center. The National Park Service offers visitors a glimpse of the Cape Lookout Lighthouse and surrounding buildings, Shackleford Banks and its wild horses along with great shelling, bird watching and saltwater fishing experienced while visiting the National Seashore. Core Sound Waterfowl Museum and Heritage Center is home to outstanding exhibits that preserve the traditions and lifestyle of the folks Down East. Visitors to the museum will find our rich maritime culture and waterfowl heritage celebrated at events held throughout the year culminating in the Core Sound Waterfowl Weekend and Decoy Festival that draws thousands to experience this annual tradition the first weekend in December.

◆ Emerald Isle

The village of Emerald Isle is found at the most western half of the island of Bogue Banks culminating in The Point, a spectacular vista for sunsets. Town fathers back in 1954 named their town for the lush green of the maritime forest that surrounded Emerald Isle then and now. This friendly Southern beach village offers the Crystal Coast's largest selection of vacation rental homes ranging from quaint cottage, low-density condominiums or elegant sandcastle homes perfect for beach weddings and multigenerational family gatherings. Families enjoy miles of walking, jogging and bike paths and several nature trails that allow you to enjoy the natural pristine environment with a variety of birds, waterfowl and families of white tail deer. The sandy beaches on both the ocean side and the sound side attract sunbathers, swimmers, and fishermen as well as surfers, kayakers and standup paddle boarders. A very family friendly destination that has been a vacation tradition for families since the 1960's, Emerald Isle also hosts one of the largest St. Patrick's Festivals in NC!

◆ Morehead City

The largest town on the Crystal Coast, Morehead City has a vibrant waterfront with fishing charter boats that unload their catches every afternoon. Charming shops and restaurants feature views overlooking the water and Sugarloaf Island. The internationally acclaimed Big Rock Blue Marlin Fishing Tournament is held annually with over one hundred boats competing for hundreds of thousands of dollars while enjoying the many social events held during tournament week. Crowds at the weigh station enjoy watching Blue Marlin, Tuna, Dolphin and Wahoo weighed in daily, as well as enjoying tastes of fresh seafood and entertainment. Morehead City is also home to the most popular festival in North Carolina- the North Carolina Seafood Festival, held every year the first weekend in October. Vendors line the waterfront with all types of seafood & arts and crafts, along with kid's rides and activities! Families can also enjoy watching the Morehead City Marlins play baseball as the wood bat team takes on rivals for the championship.

◆ Pine Knoll Shores

Located near the Theodore Roosevelt Natural forest area, Pine Knoll shores has oceanfront accommodations including hotels, motels and cottages. The wide beaches and sound side access makes it easy to swim, go shelling, clamming or kayaking along this beautiful stretch of island. The North Carolina Aquarium is located in Pine Knoll Shores and offers a look at life “under the sea”. Large tanks offer a variety of marine species including fish, crabs, seahorses, lionfish and sharks. A sea turtle nursery is also featured along with an albino turtle named Nimbus! Nature trails offer a walk above a tidal marsh where marine creatures live and shore birds wade looking for food, a tranquil way to spend the afternoon.

◆ Salter Path-Indian Beach

Salter Path/Indian Beach is located in the middle of the island of Bogue Banks at its narrowest part, with easy beach and sound side access for recreation activities. The village of Salter Path is home to many families who were the original residents of Bogue Banks and just like our Down East folks, still make their living from the sea bringing their catch directly to the fish house markets. Salter Path and Indian Beach are famous for their soundside restaurants and especially for the fish house seafood markets where the freshest catch is available for take home to prepare in your beach cottage or condominium. In Indian Beach visiting families also enjoy a miniature golf and bumper boats park along with Jet Ski and kayak rentals.
